PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that Defendant The Goldman Sachs Group, Inc. (“GS Group”) files this Notice of Removal pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1332(a), 1441(a), and 1446(b) to effect the removal of the above-captioned action, which was commenced in the Superior Court of California, San Bernardino County. Every named defendant has consented to GS Group’s filing of this Notice of Removal, which is proper for the reasons stated below.<sup>1</sup>

BACKGROUND

1. On October 4, 2022, Christie Smith et al. (“Plaintiffs”) filed a complaint in the Superior Court of California, San Bernardino County. A first amended complaint (“FAC”) was filed on February 28, 2023. Ex. A. The FAC’s allegations involve substantially similar events as those alleged in Blevins v. Synagro, C.D. Cal. No. 5:22-cv-01866 and Roberta Chavira-Walker and Gregory Chavira-Walker v. Nursery Products, LLP et al., C.D. Cal. No. 5:23-cv-00512, which GS Group removed from San Bernardino Superior Court on October 24, 2022, and March 24, 2023, and are currently pending before this Court.

2. The FAC asserts the following causes of action: (1) Negligence, (2) Strict Liability for Ultrahazardous Activities, (3) Continuing Private Nuisance, (4) Permanent Private Nuisance, (5) Continuing Public Nuisance, (6) Permanent Public Nuisance, (7) Violation of Unfair Competition Law (Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 17200, et seq.), and (8) Trespass. FAC ¶¶ 85-189.

3. Plaintiffs allege that defendants GS Group, Synagro Technologies, Inc. (“Synagro Technologies”), Synagro-WWT, Inc. (“Synagro-WWT”), “Nursery Products, LLP”—a misnomer of Nursery Products, LLC (“Nursery Products”)<sup>2</sup>—

<sup>1</sup> By filing this notice of removal, GS Group does not waive, and specifically preserves, all arguments and defenses to the FAC, including those arising from personal jurisdiction.

<sup>2</sup> The FAC alleges that “Nursery Products, LLP ... owns and operates the Nursery Products Hawes Composting Facility located at 14479 Cougar Road, Helendale, California 92342 in San Bernardino County.” FAC ¶ 9. Public records indicate that

1 and Does 1 through 100 (collectively, “Defendants”) engaged in a “negligent
2 disregard for safety” related to the Nursery Products Hawes Composting Facility 3 (“the Facility”). FAC ¶ 1.

4 4. Plaintiffs allege that Nursery Products, Synagro-WWT, and Synagro 5 Technologies operated a joint venture with respect to their ownership and control of 6 the Facility and refer to these Defendants as “Facility Defendants.” FAC ¶ 17. They 7 allege that “each of the Defendants was the agent, servant, employee, and/or partner 8 of each of the remaining Defendants.” Id. ¶ 15. Plaintiffs bring the second through 9 sixth and eighth causes of action against the Facility Defendants and bring the first 10 and seventh causes of action against all Defendants. Id. ¶¶ 85-189.

11 5. Plaintiffs allege that Facility Defendants have failed to comply with 12 state and county regulations by, inter alia, processing excessive and unpermitted 13 forms of waste, allowing waste and litter to accumulate at the facility, failing to 14 comply with appropriate fire safety standards, and engaging in unpermitted off-site 15 dumping. See, e.g., FAC ¶¶ 33, 37, 44-46, 49-51, 65-67. Plaintiffs contend that 16 Facility Defendants engaged in the aforementioned conduct despite knowing that 17 “the risk of fire was likely.” Id. ¶ 47.

18 6. Plaintiffs allege that as a result of this conduct, on May 28, 2022, 19 spontaneous combustion in a compost pile at the Facility caused a fire. FAC ¶¶ 56-20 63. They further allege that wind carried smoke, strong odors, and particulate 21 matter from the fire to neighboring communities and that the fire injured local 22 residents in various ways. Id. ¶¶ 64, 68-78.

23 7. GS Group’s counsel accepted service of the FAC and summons on GS 24 Group’s behalf on September 26, 2023. A copy of the original complaint, FAC,

25
26 Nursery Products, LLC operates that facility and has a matching business address.
27 Decl. of Amari L. Hammonds (“Hammonds Decl.”), Exs. 1, 2. Furthermore, 28 Plaintiffs contacted counsel for Nursery Products, LLC regarding service of the FAC. Hammonds Decl. ¶ 3.

1 Summons, Civil Case Cover Sheet, and all other state court papers served are 2 attached hereto as Exhibit A to this notice. Therefore, this Notice of Removal is 3 timely under the 30-day removal period. 28 U.S.C. § 1446(b); Fed. R. Civ. P.
 4 6(a)(1)(C).

5 THERE IS DIVERSITY OF CITIZENSHIP

6 8. GS Group removes this action based on 28 U.S.C. §§ 1332(a), 7 1441(a), and 1446(b). Section 1332 gives this Court original jurisdiction over civil 8 actions between citizens of different States where the matter in controversy exceeds 9 the sum or value of $75,000, exclusive of interest and costs. 28 U.S.C. § 1332(a).

10 9. The diversity requirement is satisfied where no party properly joined 11 and served as a defendant is a citizen of the same State as any plaintiff. 28 U.S.C.
 12 §§ 1332(a)(1), 1441(b)(2). Here, Plaintiffs are citizens of the forum State 13 (California), and no defendant is a citizen of that State.

14 10. Plaintiffs' Citizenship: For diversity purposes, a person is a "citizen" 15 of the state in which he or she is domiciled. Kantor v. Wellesley Galleries, Ltd., 704 16 F.2d 1088, 1090 (9th Cir. 1983). A person's domicile is the place where he or she 17 resides with the intention to remain or to which he or she intends to return.
 18 Kanter v. Warner-Lambert Co., 265 F.3d 853, 857 (9th Cir. 2001). Plaintiffs allege 19 that they reside and are domiciled in the State of California. FAC ¶¶ 1, 8, 25. GS 20 Group therefore also alleges that Plaintiffs are domiciled in and are citizens of the 21 State of California.

22 11. Defendants' Citizenship: A corporation is deemed a citizen in every 23 State in which it is incorporated and the State in which it has its primary place of 24 business. 28 U.S.C. § 1332(c)(1); Johnson v. Columbia Props. Anchorage, LP, 437
 25 F.3d 894, 899 (9th Cir. 2006). In contrast, a limited liability company "is a citizen 26 of every state of which its owners/members are citizens." Id. The Supreme Court 27 has "consistent[ly] refus[ed] to extend the corporate citizenship rule to non-28

1 corporate entities, including those,” like limited liability companies, “that share 2 some of the characteristics of corporations.” Id.

3 12. GS Group is alleged in the FAC to be a Delaware corporation with its 4 principal place of business in New York, New York. FAC ¶ 12. GS Group also 5 alleges these facts. Accordingly, GS Group is deemed a citizen of Delaware and 6 New York for the purposes of establishing diversity jurisdiction.

7 13. Synagro Technologies is a Delaware corporation with its principal 8 place of business in Baltimore, Maryland. Grant Decl. ¶ 2; see also FAC ¶ 11 9 (alleging same facts). Accordingly, Synagro Technologies is deemed a citizen of 10 Delaware and Maryland for the purposes of establishing diversity jurisdiction.

11 14. Synagro-WWT is a Maryland corporation with its principal place of 12 business in Baltimore, Maryland. Grant Decl. ¶ 3; Hammonds Decl., Ex. 1.
13 Accordingly, Synagro-WWT is deemed a citizen of Maryland for the purposes of 14 establishing diversity jurisdiction.<sup>3</sup>

15 15. Nursery Products is alleged in the FAC to be “a California corporation 16 with its principal place of business in California.” FAC ¶ 9. However, Nursery 17 Products is a limited liability corporation, not a corporation. As such, its citizenship 18 is determined by the citizenship of its members. Johnson, 437 F.3d at 899; see also 19 id. at 896-97.<sup>4</sup> The FAC fails to identify Nursery Products’ members or allege their 20 respective citizenships. De Leon v. Aurora Loan Servs., No. cv-09-8389, 2009 WL 21 5065254, at *1 (C.D. Cal. Dec. 15, 2009) (“To establish the citizenship of a limited 22 liability company, Defendant must, at a minimum, allege the citizenship of all 23 members of the limited liability company.”). GS Group alleges that the sole 24 member-owner of Nursery Products is Synagro-WWT, which is a Maryland 25 corporation. Grant Decl. ¶ 4; Hammonds Decl., Ex. 1. Therefore, Nursery Products

26 <sup>3</sup> The FAC alleges that Synagro-WWT’s principal place of business is in Houston, 27 Texas. FAC ¶ 10. This would still establish complete diversity from Plaintiffs.

28 <sup>4</sup> The same rule would apply even if Nursery Products were a limited liability partnership as misnamed in the FAC. Johnson, 437 F.3d at 899; see FAC ¶ 9.

1 is deemed a citizen of Maryland for the purposes of establishing diversity 2 jurisdiction.

3 16. Doe Defendants’ Citizenship: The citizenship of fictitiously named 4 defendants is disregarded when establishing diversity jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C.
5 § 1332. See 28 U.S.C. § 1441(b)(1); see also Bryant v. Ford Motor Co., 886 F.2d 6 1526, 1528 (9th Cir. 1989) (discussing same rule as previously codified in 7 § 1441(a)).

8 THE AMOUNT IN CONTROVERSY EXCEEDS $75,000

9 17. The notice of removal may assert the amount in controversy where the 10 complaint seeks nonmonetary relief, or where a money judgment is sought but the 11 State practice either does not permit demand for a specific sum or permits recovery 12 of damages in excess of the amount demanded. 28 U.S.C. § 1446(c)(2)(A).
13 Removal is proper on the basis of the asserted amount if the Court finds by a 14 preponderance of the evidence that the amount in controversy for an individual 15 plaintiff would exceed $75,000. 28 U.S.C. § 1446(c)(2)(B); Urbino v. Orkin Servs.
16 of Cal., Inc., 726 F.3d 1118, 1122 (9th Cir. 2013); Kroske v. U.S. Bank Corp., 432 17 F.3d 976, 980 (9th Cir. 2005). This inquiry is directed at “the amount of damages in 18 dispute” at the time of removal based on the plaintiff’s claims, Kroske, 432 F.3d at 19 980 (emphasis added), “whatever the likelihood that she will actually recover 20 them.” Chavez v. JPMorgan Chase & Co., 888 F.3d 413, 417 (9th Cir. 2018) 21 (“[T]here is no question that [those damages] are ‘at stake’ in the litigation.”).<sup>5</sup> The 22 amount in controversy is calculated per plaintiff and “may include ‘damages 23 (compensatory, punitive, or otherwise) and the cost of complying with an 24 injunction, as well as attorneys’ fees[.]’” Id. at 416; see also Urbino, 726 F.3d at 25 _____

26 <sup>5</sup> In addressing the amount in controversy, GS Group disputes Plaintiffs’ allegations 27 and is not admitting liability or that Plaintiffs are entitled to any damages from GS 28 Group. GS Group reserves the right to deny Plaintiffs’ allegations in their entirety and challenge the actual damages in subsequent proceedings and at trial. See Ibarra v. Manheim Invs., Inc., 775 F.3d 1193, 1198 n.1 (9th Cir. 2015).

1 1122; Baumann v. Chase Inv. Servs. Corp., 747 F.3d 1117, 1121 (9th Cir. 2014)
 2 (permitting aggregation between plaintiffs only under Class Action Fairness Act).
 3 When the amount in controversy is not “facially apparent” from the complaint, “the 4 court may consider facts in the removal petition” to determine the potential 5 damages at issue. Kroske, 432 F.3d at 980 (quoting Singer v. State Farm Mut. Ins.
 6 Co., 116 F.3d 373, 377 (9th Cir. 1997)).

7 18. In this proposed civil action, Plaintiffs’ prayer for relief includes 8 nonmonetary relief. FAC at 37 (seeking a “permanent injunction” against 9 Defendants requiring them to, among other things, “abate the nuisance” and “repair 10 and restore areas impacted by the release of toxic materials”). Furthermore, under 11 California law, a plaintiff may recover damages in excess of the amount demanded.
 12 Greenup v. Rodman, 42 Cal.3d 822, 827 (1986) (“[T]he court is not bound by the 13 demand of the complaint, but may award any relief consistent with the case made 14 by the plaintiff.”); Cal. Code of Civ. Proc. § 580(a). GS Group may therefore assert 15 the amount in controversy in its notice of removal.

16 Although the FAC fails to demand a specific sum, the amount in controversy 17 exceeds $75,000 per plaintiff. In an email to GS Group’s counsel dated October 9, 18 2023, Plaintiffs’ counsel represented that “they anticipate seeking more than 19 $75,000 in damages per plaintiff in this case, inclusive of attorneys’ fees and 20 injunctive relief.” Hammonds Decl. ¶ 3. As a result, Plaintiffs “do not contest the 21 existence of diversity jurisdiction.” Id. Under Ninth Circuit law, this admission 22 alone is sufficient to establish the amount in controversy exceeds $75,000 as 23 required for diversity jurisdiction. “Such a concession is tantamount to a plaintiff 24 expressly alleging damages in excess of the jurisdictional amount, which [the Court 25 may] accept as the amount in controversy if done in good faith.” Chavez, 888 F.3d 26 at 416. “Where the plaintiff filed the case in state court, and did not seek the federal 27 forum, then the plaintiff’s formal judicial admission that the amount in controversy 28 exceeds [the jurisdictional minimum] has the effect of defeating the plaintiff’s

1 choice of forum.” Singer v. State Farm Mut. Auto. Ins. Co., 116 F.3d 373, 376 (9th
 2 Cir. 1997) (affirming denial of remand motion because district court reasonably 3 relied on similar admission in concluding jurisdictional requirement was satisfied).
 4 As in Singer, Plaintiffs have filed personal injury claims, for which California law 5 prohibits plaintiffs from stating the amount in controversy in a complaint. Cal.
 6 Code Civ. Proc. § 425.10(b); see, e.g., FAC ¶ 2. Especially “[i]n this context, where 7 state law prohibited plaintiff from stating the amount in controversy in the 8 complaint, the district judge has discretion to accept the admission as establishing 9 it.” Singer, 116 F.3d at 376.

10 19. As explained below, “the plausibility of the admission” based on the 11 FAC’s allegations and other evidence further supports jurisdiction. Singer, 116 F.3d 12 at 377. GS Group provides the following additional analysis of potential damages 13 (without admitting liability or that any Plaintiff is entitled to the relief sought) 14 based on the allegations in Plaintiffs’ FAC and judicially noticeable facts to further 15 demonstrate that the FAC puts in controversy a sufficient amount for removal under 16 28 U.S.C. § 1332(a). “[T]he defendant’s showing on the amount in controversy 17 may rely on reasonable assumptions” about its damages exposure. Acad. of Country 18 Music v. Cont’l Cas. Co., 991 F.3d 1059, 1069 (9th Cir. 2021) (quoting Arias v.
 19 Residence Inn by Marriott, 936 F.3d 920, 922 (9th Cir. 2019)); see also Pretka v.
 20 Kolter City Plaza II, Inc., 608 F.3d 744, 754 (11th Cir. 2010) (permitting 21 “reasonable deductions, reasonable inferences, or other reasonable extrapolations”); 22 Behrazfar v. Unisys Corp., 687 F. Supp. 2d 999, 1004 (C.D. Cal. 2009) (relying on 23 defendants’ good faith, conservative estimates). “[A] removing defendant is not 24 obligated to ‘research, state, and prove the plaintiff’s claims for damages,’” 25 Narayan v. Compass Grp. USA, Inc., 284 F. Supp. 3d 1076, 1089-90 (E.D. Cal.
 26 2018); see also Dart Cherokee Basin Operating Co. v. Owens, 574 U.S. 81, 88-89 27 (2014).

20. Even setting aside Plaintiffs’ counsel’s concessions, judicially noticeable facts, including the damages in dispute in “similar ... cases”—reliance on which the Ninth Circuit has upheld in assessing jurisdiction, Kroske, 432 F.3d at 980 (citing De Aguilar v. Boeing Co., 11 F.3d 55, 58 (5th Cir. 1993))—demonstrate that the various categories of damages and injunctive relief sought by Plaintiffs push the amount in controversy well above $75,000 per plaintiff.

21. Plaintiffs’ request for punitive damages alone places the amount in controversy beyond $75,000 per plaintiff: “It is well established that punitive damages are part of the amount in controversy in a civil action.” Gibson, 261 F.3d at 945. “Punitive damages are intended to punish a defendant’s past misconduct and deter future wrongful acts.” E.E.O.C. v. Farmer Bros. Co., 31 F.3d 891, 904 (9th Cir. 1994) (citing Neal v. Farmers Ins. Exch., 21 Cal. 3d 910, 929 n.13 (1978)). “Under California law,” “the financial condition of the defendant” is one of several criteria a court or jury may consider in calculating punitive damages. Id. (including this criterion alongside “the severity of the defendant’s misconduct” and “the injury caused”).

22. Plaintiffs’ punitive damages requests will by themselves exceed $75,000 per plaintiff. GS Group is a leading global financial services firm that reported net earnings in 2022 close to $11 billion. Hammonds Decl., Ex. 3 at 21 (GS Group’s 2022 Form 10-K). The Complaint requests “punitive and exemplary damages ... to punish or set an example of Defendants and deter such behavior by Defendants and others in the future.” FAC ¶ 101. Plaintiffs allege Defendants’ wrongful acts and/or omissions “were done maliciously, oppressively, fraudulently, and/or in conscious disregard of the health and safety of Plaintiffs and their community,” id. ¶ 97, and have resulted in “thousands of individuals” being “exposed to elevated levels of burnt biosolids and other contaminants,” id. ¶ 2. The Complaint further alleges that the Facility has repeatedly violated relevant safety

1 regulations and experienced “five other compost fires” in recent years before the 2 one at issue in this case. Id. ¶ 54.

3 23. Given GS Group’s financial condition (even without considering the 4 financial condition of other Defendants), the conduct alleged, and the community-5 wide harm allegedly caused, there is no doubt that Plaintiffs’ punitive damages 6 request places the amount in controversy well over $75,000. Juries have awarded 7 far more in similar cases involving pollution from industrial activity. Compare, e.g., 8 Orjias v. Stevenson, 31 F.3d 995, 1011, 1014 (10th Cir. 1994) (punitive damages 9 around 0.2 percent of defendant’s net worth, with each of 12 plaintiffs receiving 10 $156,000 based on actual damages as low as $10,000); McKiver v. Murphy-Brown, 11 LLC, 980 F.3d 937, 946 (4th Cir. 2020) ($5 million in punitive damages, capped to 12 $2.5 million under state law, awarded to 23 plaintiffs who each received $75,000 in 13 compensatory damages); Potter v. Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., 6 Cal. 4th 965, 14 978 (1993) ($2.6 million in total punitive damages awarded to four landowners).
15 Within the Central District, even torts by individual defendants can result in 16 punitive damages exceeding $75,000. See Crawford v. Cnty. of Orange, No. 16-cv-17 01503, 2018 WL 3121883 (C.D. Cal. Apr. 25, 2018) ($250,000 in punitive 18 damages awarded to individual counterclaimant based on “[c]ourthouse brawl”).
19 Accordingly, the punitive damages at stake here alone satisfy the jurisdictional 20 minimum.

21 24. Plaintiffs’ request for attorneys’ fees alone places the amount in 22 controversy above $75,000 per plaintiff: “[T]he amount in controversy 23 includes ... attorney[s’] fees if authorized by statute or contract.” Kroske, 432 F.3d 24 at 980. The FAC asserts a request for attorneys’ fees (FAC at 38), and Plaintiffs 25 will seek fees exceeding $75,000 per plaintiff. Plaintiffs’ attorneys, Cotchett, Pitre 26 & McCarthy, LLP, have regularly requested attorneys’ fees in the millions of 27 dollars, including in cases that led to settlement. See Hammonds Decl., Ex. 4 at 26 28 (Cotchett asserting $2,393,007.50 lodestar for 4,249.8 hours of legal work);

Hammonds Decl., Ex. 5 at 55 ($9,437,778.00 lodestar for 17,412.62 hours of legal work); Hammonds Decl., Ex. 6 at 103 (requesting $1,494,135 fee based on $4,998,897 lodestar for 11,751 hours of legal work). Analyzing Cotchett’s lodestar against total hours worked, Cotchett frequently requests fees using a lodestar with $500 hourly rates. Assuming a similar calculation here, Cotchett’s lodestar in the present action would touch $75,000 after only 150 hours of legal work, something that may have already happened. In any event, for a case of the nature described in the Complaint, Cotchett would work more than 150 hours per plaintiff on this case even if the case ends in settlement. See, e.g., Dkt. 1, Ex. A at 67 (civil case cover sheet designating the action as provisionally complex civil litigation with “[l]arge number of separately represented parties,” “[e]xtensive motion practice,” a “[s]ubstantial amount of documentary evidence,” and a “[l]arge number of witnesses”). Accordingly, Plaintiffs’ request for attorneys’ fees alone places the amount in controversy above $75,000. See also Stanton Rd. Assocs. v. Lohrey Enters., No. C890947, 1991 WL 632301 (N.D. Cal. Apr. 15, 1991) (one plaintiff awarded $389,925 in consequential damages and $126,198 in attorney’s fees after the defendant’s commercial dry-cleaning business contaminated neighboring property owned by plaintiff).

25. Plaintiffs’ other requested relief also places the amount in controversy well above $75,000: Plaintiffs’ other requested relief also demonstrates the amount in controversy will exceed $75,000. GS Group notes just a few examples below.

26. Damages for personal injuries. Plaintiffs allege they have suffered numerous damages “including but not limited to ... headaches, vomiting, nausea, asthma and other respiratory problems,” FAC ¶ 90, as well as “discomfort, annoyance, anxiety, fear, worries, and stress attendant to the interference with Plaintiffs’ occupancy, possession, use, and/or enjoyment of their property,” id. ¶ 123. In a case involving similarly noxious odors, without the kinds of allegations

1 of physical illness here, each plaintiff received $75,000 in compensatory damages 2 on their nuisance claims. McKiver, 980 F.3d at 946, 955 (industrial hog harm). In 3 Orjias, where the plaintiffs experienced “physical illness, annoyance, 4 inconvenience, and discomfort” and ultimately vacated their homes, 31 F.3d at 5 999—a reasonable outcome here considering Plaintiffs’ allegations that they have 6 needed to “relocate,” FAC ¶ 149—actual damages ranged between $10,000 and 7 $98,320 per plaintiff, Orjias, 31 F.3d at 999. And in yet another case, where four 8 landowners were “subjected to prolonged exposure to certain carcinogens” but did 9 not presently suffer any cancerous or precancerous condition, the plaintiffs were 10 awarded $800,000 for their lifelong fear of cancer and resultant emotional distress, 11 $269,500 for psychiatric illness, and $108,100 “for the general disruption of their 12 lives and the invasion of their privacy.” Potter, 6 Cal. 4th at 975, 978. Compare 13 FAC ¶¶ 81, 90 (alleging the air contaminants from the Facility not only place them 14 at risk for illness and disease, but are presently causing them symptoms). These and 15 other comparator cases demonstrate that the amount in controversy exceeds 16 $75,000 per plaintiff. See, e.g., Schaeffer v. Gregory Vill. Partners L.P., No. 3:13-17 cv-04358, 2015 WL 10553230 (N.D. Cal. Nov. 23, 2015) (awarding two plaintiffs 18 $706,500 for contaminated air, soil, and water under theories including public 19 nuisance, private nuisance, trespass, negligence, and ultrahazardous activity); 20 Walnut Creek Manor, LLC v. Mayhew Ctr., LLC, No. 4:07-cv-05664, 2009 WL 21 3260096 (N.D. Cal. June 1, 2009) (one plaintiff awarded $1,947,000 under theories 22 of private nuisance, public nuisance, trespass, negligence, negligence per se, and 23 strict liability after jury found that harmful chemicals were released from 24 defendant’s property); Stanton Rd. Assocs., 1991 WL 632301 (plaintiff awarded 25 $389,925 in consequential damages).

26       27. Diminution in property value. Plaintiffs allege they “have suffered and 27 will continue to suffer the diminution of the value of their property.” FAC ¶ 96. The 28 Census Bureau places the median value of owner-occupied homes in San 1 Bernardino County at $370,700. Hammonds Decl., Ex. 7 at 124. Plaintiffs may well 2 seek up to the full value of their home even if not precisely stated in the Complaint.

 3 See Gibson, 261 F.3d at 946 (explaining that “the potential for [certain] damages 4 may still be considered for purposes of amount in controversy” even if “not 5 explicitly request[ed]” in complaint); Bradley v. Armstrong Rubber Co., 130 F.3d 6 168, 171 (5th Cir. 1997) (plaintiffs sought to prove market value of homes had 7 turned “negative” based on soil and water contamination).

8 28. Medical monitoring. Plaintiffs allege entitlement to medical 9 monitoring because they “have been placed at an increased risk of contracting latent 10 illness and disease, including but not limited to respiratory, cardiovascular, 11 neurological, and mental health issues.” FAC ¶ 81. The value of the medical 12 monitoring in dispute could reach upwards of tens of thousands of dollars per 13 plaintiff. See Potter, 6 Cal. 4th at 978 ($142,975 awarded to four plaintiffs for 14 medical monitoring).

15 29. Injunctive relief. The amount in controversy also includes “the cost of 16 complying with an injunction.” Chavez, 888 F.3d at 416. Plaintiffs seek broad 17 injunctive relief, including establishing “a fund for the relocation of Plaintiffs and 18 impacted residents,” which allegedly number in the thousands. FAC at 37; see also 19 id. ¶ 1. A relocation fund for thousands of residents itself plainly satisfies the 20 amount-in-controversy requirement. Documents available on San Bernardino 21 County’s website suggest a corresponding relocation fund could top $700,000: One 22 proposed 2018 relocation plan’s schedule for fixed moving expense payments 23 started at $725 for the smallest moves and capped rental assistance post-move at 24 $7,200. Hammonds Decl., Ex. 8 at 138, 139. Given potential fund costs in addition 25 to the other injunctive relief requested, the request for injunctive relief alone places 26 the amount in controversy above $75,000.
